

International Workshop on Seediq and Related Languages: Grammar, Processing, and Revitalization

Date: May 12, 2018
Venue: Harvard-Yenching Institute
Common Room (#136), 2 Divinity Avenue, Cambridge, MA
Supported by: Harvard-Yenching Institute and
JSPS KAKENHI Grant Number JP15H02603

Program:

- 9:30-9:40 Opening Remarks (Jim Huang, Harvard University)
9:40-10:20 Constituent order in language and thought
(Masatoshi Koizumi, Tohoku University/HYI)
10:20-11:00 VOS versus VSO in Austronesian languages
(Edith Aldridge, University of Washington)
11:00-11:20 Coffee Break
11:20-12:00 Linguistic features of attrition in Truku Seediq
(Apay Ai-yu Tang, National Dong Hwa University)
12:00-12:30 Comments (Shigeru Miyagawa, MIT)
12:30-13:10 Lunch
13:10-13:50 Syntax and processing in Seediq: A behavioral study
(Hajime Ono, Tsuda University)
13:50-14:30 Syntax and processing in Seediq: An event-related potential study
(Masataka Yano, Kyushu University)
14:30-15:10 Agent versus non-agent motions immediately influence event apprehension
and description: An eye-tracking study in a VOS Language
(Manami Sato, Okinawa International University)
15:10-15:30 Coffee Break
15:30-17:00 General Discussion: Challenges and Future Direction
(Chair: Jim Huang, Harvard University)
15:30-16:00 Comments (Colin Phillips, University of Maryland)
16:00-16:15 Discussion
16:15-16:45 Comments (Norvin Richards, MIT)
16:45-17:00 Discussion
- 17:30- Dinner